The TVET cutting edge

ACCOUNTING, E-sports, Cyber Security and Cruise Operations are among the new skill-based courses offered to all students by BERJAYA TVET College (BTJET) starting August 2022 intake. Students who are 16 years old, and have no PT3 or SPM qualifications can start their vocational education under the renowned vocational education, BTJET located in Berjaya Times Square.

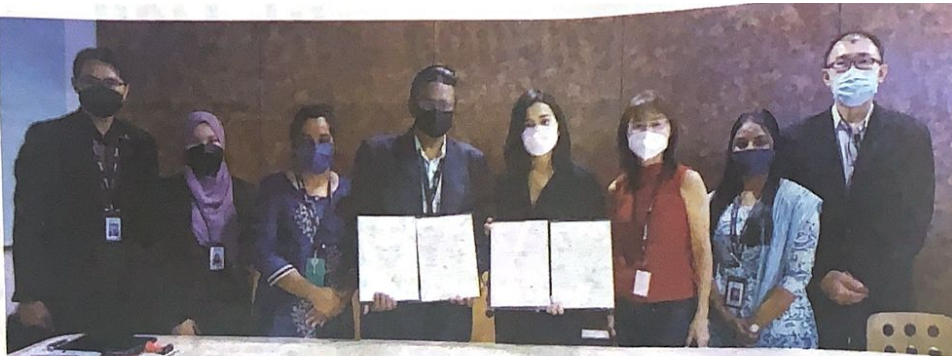

BTJET includes a diverse range of programmes, integrating entrepreneurship and creating financially rewarding careers much sought after. BTJET believes that every student should be given the opportunity to pursue a recognised vocational education from Foundation Certificate to Graduate Diploma with value-added programmes to provide international recognition.

BTJET offers the best vocational education in the field of business, information technology, culinary arts and hospitality management with in-house practical training during their course of study in various reputable companies.

BTJET graduates have good career opportunities, local and internationally with promising incomes as most developed countries are pushing for higher job placements with TVET qualifications.

TVET programmes range from Level 3 Certificates to Level 6 Degree, of which each level represents one year. Students are encouraged to do Value Add programmes based on their expertise with our foreign partners for additional certifications from recognised institutions aside from programmes endorsed by Jabatan Kemahiran Malaysia, Ministry of Human Resources.

Partners include City & Guilds (UK), American Hospitality Academy (USA) and National Computing Centre (UK), International Management Institute

Memorandum of Understanding signing ceremony between BTJET College and Hatching Group PJ Sdn Bhd.

BTJET College offers Business Management programmes with Top Up degrees from the United Kingdom, New Zealand and France. This programme offers specialisation in Retail, Business Management and E-Sports Management.

Collaborating with NCC, BTJET offers a Level 7 Post Graduate Diploma in Business for working adults who wish to pursue higher studies and it is conducted in part-time mode with a hybrid teaching methodology. These programmes offered under are skill-based courses applying practical-analytical concepts to each subject offered.

Information Technology (IT) programmes are the way forward under the current pandemic as the

IT era grew economically worldwide. With the current launch of MyDIGITAL and Malaysia Digital Economy Blueprint by the Malaysian government, this project contains various initiatives for three-phased implementations until 2030, including investments to be made by the government and private sectors requiring special IT skills in the highly-tech industries.

BTJET prepares and moulds the students into a digital literacy society to enhance and upgrade the digital economy vision for students specialising in programmes such as Web Development, Business Information Systems and Digital Marketing.

BERJAYA TVET College has successfully churned out many graduates for the Culinary and Hospitality programmes with almost full employment within six months of graduation in the Middle East, Singapore, Hong Kong, Taiwan, and Australia.

The hospitality and culinary programmes have obtained recognition from various colleges and universities in the world. The international recognition has enabled the students to be "industrial-vocational" experts in their respective fields. Confident and poised with good personalities, the students are 'hand-picked' for job employability being benched-marked at international standards.

BTJET also has a programme for "Special Needs" students, especially catering for slow learners. This programme which runs for 6 months covers basic skills in Basic Communication, Application Software, Food and Beverage and Basic Culinary skills. BTJET also provides special schemes for the B40 community and also Special Teachers scheme for both private and government school teachers.

Working adults who wish to pursue vocational education can opt for a hybrid mode through various schemes provided by BTJET. Custom-tailored courses which are HRDF claimable can be designed specifically for organisations who are keen to train their staff.

BTJET is also the Authorised Training Provider for PERKESO, offering a variety of short courses under the PENJANA and EIS schemes.

"Being a prime institution in providing vocational education at both local and international standards, BTJET strives to prepare students to become street-smart, technically inclined and industry-ready graduates. Here in BTJET, you BEGIN HERE and EXCEL HERE," stressed Kanendran T Arulrajah, President of BERJAYA TVET College.
