The government hopes to ensure that Malaysia's 'good' economic growth numbers can be translated into visible impacts that can be felt by the people as the country is set to register continued growth going forward, said Economy Minister Rafizi Ramli.

Malaysia is expected to post gross domestic product (GDP) growth of between 4.0 and 5.0 percent this year.

To achieve this, Rafizi said Malaysia needed a big shift not only at the government level but also in the private sector and society.
